STUFFING A STRANGER

Burlington Hawkeye.

Do you remember, some weeks since I was greatly annoyed by an inquisitive man down in Maine, abruptly closed my letter for the purpose of stuffing the aforesaid man.

Well, I stuffed him.

"Much of a place, your town?" he said.

"Oh, yes," I said, with the matter of course carelessness of a citizen of a great Western metropolis, "about forty-five thousand, I guess."

The man eyed me with keen, awakening interest. "So big as that?" he said.

I nodded, and he presently said, "Well, I had no idea there was such a large city in town. State must be pretty well settled up, I reckon?"

I said, "Yes, it was. Some portions of it pretty wild though."

"Any large game in the State?"

"Herds of it," "I said; I killed deer last winter not two miles from the Burlington court-house."

I pacified my conscience for this lie by explaining to that rebellious and vociferous monitor that there was no Burlington court-house, that it was burnt down seven years ago, and the county was waiting until it could buy a second-hand court house for $1.75, before replacing it. Therefore, I could truthfully say that I killed all the deer that came within two miles of our court house.

"I want to know?" the native exclaimed.

"Do you, though?" thought I, "then I will tell you." And so I went on "Why, the wolves only two years ago made a raid into Burlington and killed all the chickens on South Hill.'

Conscience raised a terrible protest at this, but I hushed it up too quick, by citing the well-known case of Meigs Schenck's wolf that got loose and in one single summer night ate up everything on Summer Hill that wore feathers.—The native looked astonished and doubly interested.

"Any Indians?" he said

"Land, yes," I told him, yawning wearily, as one who talks of old, stale things. "Sitting Bull was educated at the Baptist collegiate institute, in Burlington, and was expelled for trying to scalp Professor Wortman with a horse-shoe magnet!"

"You don't tell me!" exclaimed the native in wild amazement. By this time I was perfectly reckless and told conscience to keep its mouth shut and give me a chance.

"Oh, yes," I said, "Yellow Wolf's old medicine lodge is still standing, right out on West Hill. The Indians come into the city very frequently, tearing through the streets on their wiry little ponies."

"Ever have any trouble with them?" the man asked.

"Oh, no," I said, carelessly, "the citizens seldom do. The cow boys, who come up from Texas with cattle, hate them terribly, and occasionally drop one in the streets just for revolver practice. But nobody else interferes in their fights."

"I suppose," the man said, "you al carry revolvers strapped around you, out there?"

"Oh, yes," I replied, "of course. We have to; a man never knows when he is going to have trouble with somebody, and in case of any little misunderstanding, it wouldn't do for a fellow not to be heeled."

I saw the man shuddered a little. Then, fearing he might ask to look at my revolver, I casually remarked that I never carried my barkers when I came east.

He said, no, he supposed not. Then he looked out of the window a long time and said nothing. Finally I asked him in what part of Maine he made his home. He looked up at me in surprise.

"Me?" he said. "Lord, I don't live in this rock patch. I'm only here visiting some relatives."

In a feeble voice I asked him where did he live then.

The man yawned, and again looked listlessly out of the window

"Oh," he said, "I live on a farm just out by Leffler's; about six miles out of Burlington. I wish I was back there now."

So did I. So did I. I wished he had never left there.

We didn't talk together any longer. Shortly after that the weather changed, the car grew very cold, and I went into the smoking car to look for a fire.

The Daily Republican.

S. E. NASMITH, J. N. MOSSER.

HASHER & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 14, 1879.

Both houses of the Illinois legislature adjourned yesterday until Tuesday next. This was made necessary by the absence of so many members on the junketing expedition, which left the Capital on Monday and will not return until next week.

The British Parliament reassembled yesterday, and found itself confronted by a brace of exceedingly serious questions—the recent disaster to the national arms in South Africa, and the defiant attitude of the strikers in various parts of the United Kingdom. The session promises to be a very important and exciting one.

A committee from the Ohio legislature visited the Industrial University at Champaign on Wednesday, accompanied by President Orton of the Ohio State University, and a delegation from the board of trustees of that institution. The visitors expressed the greatest satisfaction with what they saw.

The newest romance, based on improbability, is to the effect that Marshal Ney, the dashing Frenchman, did not receive the bullets aimed at him in the garden of Luxembourg, in 1815, but that, through the conspiracy of soldiers and doctors, he escaped death, and became an exile in North Carolina, where he died in 1846. The facts—that his burial took place in Pere La Chaise, that his widow and sons published his memoirs in 1815, and that his most intimate friends caused a statue to be erected to him on the spot where he fell—rather beclout the romance.

Secretary Sherman's "enormous wealth" has been discovered by a correspondent of the Leader, of Cleveland, to be merely the thin and unsubstantial fabric of a Democratic report. This correspondent has been visiting Mansfield, where lies the Secretary's property, which property is asserted by competent judges there to be worth not more than $35,000. He owns, moreover, not a dollar's worth of stock in the banks of Richmond county, and friends declare that he owns no property in Ohio outside Mansfield. He is said to have acquired only $22,000 since entering upon his political career; the rest he owned before he had anything to do with politics.

The New York Herald is not satisfied with Marble's explanation of his various statements. It asks, "Why he did not send the news that the Florida Returning Board was for sale publicly, instead of in cipher to Pelton, if he meant it as a mere danger signal? There was a beautiful chance to defeat possible corruption by throwing the keen, bright sunlight of publicity upon it. Moses was sending long dispatches to the Northern journals every day, but it did not occur to him to put this danger signal into any of them. Another point is that if he didn't mean to have Pelton understand that he was sending a proposition to sell, how came he to refrain from saying as much? A man who was amusing himself by asking if he should not ring a fire-bell in the night, and by telling Tilden to saddle Blackstone, was not sparing any expense in the length of his messages. Again, if he had intended Pelton to understand it as an offer to sell, how differently would he have worded it? Would not an ordinary coparcener like Weed, who was not a high moralist, have worded it about as Joseph Surface Moses did?"

The Plague-Stricken Territory

The direction taken by the Russian epidemic makes the blow doubly severe, several of the chief commercial centers in Eastern Russia being among the now quarantined towns on the Lower Volga. Saratoff, about 400 miles above Astrakhan, is a perfect nest of factories, being, indeed, the Manchester of the Eastern provinces. Samara, on the easternmost bend of the river, a little higher up, is the center of the fast-growing trade in "koumiss" or fermented mare's milk so largely used for medicinal purposes. The traffic of Astrakhan itself in furs and stuffs of every kind is too well known to require demonstration, while the cluster of German colonies in the Sarepta district are equally productive on a smaller scale. That the Government fully appreciates the value of the Volga trade is shown by the immense cost and labor expended upon the new railways which have lately united Saratoff and Tsaritzin with the network of lines centering in Moscow. The outbreak of such a pestilence only five or six weeks before the opening of the river navigation, and so near the end of the cold weather, which is usually found to be its surest antidote, is undoubted a very serious calamity.

It is Astonishing with what rapidity ulcerous sores and eruptive maladies are cured by Henry's Carbolic Salve, an external antidote to unhealthy conditions of the skin which is preferred by physicians to every other preparation containing the carbolic element. It is undoubtedly the finest antiseptic and purifier extant. It acts like a charm on purulent eruptions and has also been successfully used for rheumatism and sore throat. Sold by S. M. How New Hampshire Settles the Tramp Nuisance.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Up in New Hampshire the people have grown tired of talking about the tramp nuisance, and have set themselves practically to the task of abating it. The Legislature has passed a law for the protection of residents in the rural parts, and citizens generally, from the vagabonds who have made life hardly less than a terror to people in many localities, and the statute has proved such a positive success that the example can certainly be followed with profit by other communities. There is no need at this late day to insist upon the reality and extent of the evil. For years the reports such outrages have been increasing in number and atrocity, and it is no exaggeration to affirm that thousands of families in all parts of the country live in a constant state of excitement and alarm, which it is the clear duty of the authorities to render unnecessary, but which duty has only in very rare instances been attempted. Here and there have been noted local attempts, such as that made by the people of Bryn Mawr last year, to protect the citizen, but the only large or general action of which we are aware is the New Hampshire movement. Stern measures are needed, because the evil has grown steadily in proportion with the weakness shown in its suppression. The tramp is no longer the mere disagreeable loafer whom it was once easy to rebuff, from beggary he has advanced to threatening violence, he goes on his travels now in many instances with other rogues of like tendencies, and the advance of such a gang upon an unprotected farm house is as apt as not to be a very serious matter. The way of life on the farm leaves the women in a majority of cases alone during a great part of the day, while the men are in the fields, and it is on this fact that the tramp thrives. Murders have been common, and the approach of the open part of the year causes renewed anxiety evidences of which reach us from various quarters by our exchanges. New Hampshire's answer to all this is very summary. The tramp is there, and, by the very act of tramping,—by which is meant vagabondage and beggary,—amenable to law. He is arrested on sight and remanded to jail, where he is forced to work out a not too long sentence, for his own support and the good of the State. Women are exempted from the provisions of the act, together with children under 17 and blind persons, but all other beggars are liable to conviction under the law. The results of this legislation are excellent; New Hampshire enjoys a rural peace to which she was long a stranger, and the hint she gives her sister States may certainly be improved to their advantage.

John Sherman as a Candidate for President.

New York Sun (Dem.)

He is a wise politician who, without blinking, looks the truth in the face, whatever the truth may be. However distasteful it may be to many, the fact nevertheless is that John Sherman has been making very rapid progress of late as a candidate for the Presidency. The change in the Custom-House in this city was a victory for Mr. Sherman. Mr. Hayes did what he could in compliance with Mr. Sherman's wishes, but little it was that lay in his power. The effective work was done by the Secretary of the Treasury. To him the responsibility of the result attaches. If there is advantage in it, the advantage inures to his benefit. We observe in certain quarters a disposition to disparage this victory. It is, however, of a good deal of direct importance. It sets to work for him a powerful machine which had been working against him heretofore. The influence of this machine is widespread. It is not only potent in this State, but extends, through various ramifications, to different parts of the country. But this is not all. The victory in such a hard fought battle with a man of Mr. Conkling's ability and influence imparts a new prestige to the name of John Sherman. From his achievement of this victory people will feel confidence that in the future he may win other and greater battles.

John Sherman, as a candidate for President, is not to be despised.

H. C Chisholm, son of Judge Chisholm, murdered by a Mississippi mob, has been appointed messenger in the Executive Department of the State Capitol at Harrisburg by Governor Hoyt of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Chisholm has a clerkship at Washington, and other members of the family reside at Williamsport.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Trial of Some Whisky Crooks at Springfield.

Mardi-Gras in Illinois.

ZACK. CHANDLER NOMINATED.

GRANT AT BOMBAY.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—The Post endeavors to fire Democratic hearts to-day with a double-leaded editorial prediction that unless the Election law is repealed at this session, the next House will be organized as an anti-Democratic body, and charging that the Republicans have a scheme on foot to buy or bribe all the "Independents," "Nationals" and "Greenbackers" in the next House, and finally to indict, convict and imprison, under the Election law, seven Democratic members, so as to enable the Republicans to control the House. The Democrats selected for the bastile are King, of Louisiana; Hull, of Florida; Elam, of Louisiana; Shelley, of Alabama; Conner, of South Carolina; Chalmers, of Mississippi, and one other yet to be chosen. The Post thus warns the Democrats of the danger which threatens them, and protests against their accepting the untimely conservatism of Senator Bayard as their guide, unless they want seven of their members elect to serve out sentences in the Penitentiary.

The Republican Senatorial caucus, to day, decided to resist all attempts to put new legislation upon any of the appropriation bills. This is intended to cover the proposed repeal of the Test-oath and Supervisors of Election laws and the army reorganization scheme. Several Republican Senators are strongly in favor of the last-named proposition, but have yielded their personal convictions for the good of the party. Senator Burnside, especially, wants the Army Reorganization bill to pass, but will vote with his Republican associates against engrafting it upon the Army Appropriation bill. It was determined, also, to postpone action upon the Butler-Corbin (South Carolina) case until the successor of the late Senator Christiancy takes his seat in the Senate. The Republicans have brought a great pressure to bear upon Senators Don Cameron and Stanley Matthews to induce them to sacrifice their personal feeling in favor of Butler, and to vote with their party to seat Corbin, with a fair prospect of success. A prominent Republican Senator said this afternoon that he did not believe that Cameron would be able to resist the appeals made to him by his party associates not to go against his party in this matter.

The Democratic Senators also held a caucus, at which, it is reported, there was a very stormy time. Senator Bayard made a strong speech against attempting radical legislation by amendments upon appropriation bills. He took a very conservative position, while Mr. Thurman and others went to the extreme in their demands.

The President, in conversation last evening, alluded to the action of the Democrats in trying to force an extra session of Congress, and said that if any of the appropriation bills failed, it would not follow that an extra session would be called at once. The Government has money enough appropriated to meet all expenses until July, and therefore there would be no necessity of calling Congress together before that time, and probably it could be deferred until the middle of September or the 1st of October. The President spoke out plainly, and indicated a determination not to be a party to any proposition to convene the Forty sixth Congress so that the Democrats can get absolute control of the Senate. If all the appropriation bills are passed, the President will probably call an executive session of the Senate in October next to consider nominations, and he has said as much to New England's Senators.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—Charles McGill was hanged in this city, to-day, at noon, for the murder of Mary Kelley, on December 2, 1877. He awoke at six o'clock this morning, partook of a hearty breakfast, and during the forenoon took leave of his brothers, counsel, sheriff, spiritual adviser, and other friends. He died in thirteen and a half minutes after the drop fell. His only words on the scaffold were, "Don't make any mistake about that rope."

Clinton, Ill., Feb. 13.—Another confidence man has visited this county, and, as a result, about fifty people have been victimized by subscribing for periodicals, etc., and paying part in advance, waiting till they receive the papers to pay the balance. Of course none ever came, and the people are aware that they are out. There are plenty more who will bite at the next bait.

Bombay, Feb. 13.—Gen. Grant and party arrived here to-day.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—Since the thaw set in the number of plague-stricken at Zaritsin has increased. Prof. Jacobi, head of the Medical Commission sent to the infected district, has been attacked with the disease, and was worse at last accounts.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—In the U. S. Court to-day, was commenced the trial which promises to occupy to-morrow, also, of John D. McIntyre and Geo. T. Reisinger, Pekin distillers and rectifiers; Wm. T. Edds, City Marshal there; Mindret Wemple, of Mount Pulaski, and Frank Cassel, of El Paso, both formerly of Pekin, charged with running off to Hot Springs Chas. Johnson, a witness, who had information of the crookedness of these defendants, and proposed to give it away. He is here and will testify to-morrow. Wm. H. McIntyre and Hiram Vandervoort, former rectifiers, who have suffered Government pressure heretofore, testified to considerable crookedness on the part of J. D. McIntyre, and former gangers, store-keepers and other employes, corroborated this evidence. It would appear that the crookedness alluded to extends back several years, and, despite frequent investigation by revenue officials, would probably never have become known except for these squealers. It also appears that Westerman is not so black as he has been painted, and that, as that deposed chief has always insisted, McIntyre, who has enjoyed official acquaintance, not himself, was the principal crooked operator. The Court-room was crowded all afternoon, and much interest attaches to the case. The testimony of Charles Johnson, to-morrow, is expected to be rich.

Carmi, Ill., Feb. 13.—The "Mistick Krew of the Wabash," a secret organization recently organized in this city, are making extensive arrangements for the celebration of Mardi Gras here. The affair promises, for magnificence and grandeur, to eclipse anything ever before held in this section of the State. The different railroads leading to the city will run special trains at half-fare rates.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 13.—Hon. Zachariah Chandler was unanimously nominated for United States Senator by the Republican caucus, at Lansing, this evening.

Nashville, Ten., Feb. 13.—Alex. McGill (colored) was lynched near Shelbyville, last night, by unknown men.

Whereas, Martha Plyburn did, on the third day of April, A. D. 1877, execute to the Decatur Building and Benefit Association, of Decatur, Illinois, one certain obligation acknowledging herself indebted to said association in the sum of four hundred dollars, money loaned her under the charter and by laws of said association upon account of four shares of the capital stock of said association owned by her, and did bind herself, her heirs and assigns, to pay the said association the sum of two (2) dollars monthly dues upon said shares of stock aforesaid, and also the sum of three (3) dollars interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum upon said loan, both to be paid on the first Tuesday of each and every month thereafter, until the said loan, with the interest thereon, shall have been liquidated under the charter and by-laws of said association by the said shares of capital stock aforementioned having reached their par value, and did also expressly provide that, in the event of any default in the payment of monthly dues and interest as aforesaid for the period of six months, then and in such case the whole principal debt aforesaid shall, at the option of said association, their successors and assigns, become due and payable immediately; and the payment of said principal sum and all interest thereon, as well as any dues upon said shares of stock then unpaid, together with the fines imposed under the law of said association, may be enforced and recovered at once;

And whereas, the said Martha Plyburn, joined therein by John Plyburn, her husband, for the better securing of the said obligation in consideration thereof, and for other considerations mentioned therein, did upon the same day execute a certain deed of trust and acknowledge and deliver the same to the undersigned as trustee, releasing and waiving all rights under and by virtue of the Homestead Laws of Illinois, to the following described property, situate in the county of Macon and State of Illinois, to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of lot fifteen (15), of the southwest quarter of section fifteen (15), in township sixteen (16) north, and range two (2) east of the third principal meridian, (as platted and recorded in book 22, page 157 of the records of said county,) and running from thence south one hundred and fourteen (114) feet, thence west three chains and sixty-two links, thence north one hundred and fourteen (114) feet, thence east three chains and sixty-two links to the place of beginning; and it is expressly provided in said deed that in case of any default by said Martha Plyburn upon her obligation aforesaid as therein stipulated; and in the further event that said association, by its president or secretary, shall make application for proceedings under this trust, it should be lawful for said trustee, after publishing notice for the sale of said premises in some newspaper published in the city of Decatur, county of Macon, State of Illinois, for the term of four weeks prior to the day of such sale, sell the said premises, together with the right of homestead and all the right and equity of redemption of said first party at public auction at the time and place specified in said notice of sale to the highest bidder for cash; which sale might be adjourned from time to time as shall be deemed expedient by said trustee, his attorney or successor in trust, by public proclamation or otherwise, and to make, execute and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a deed or deeds for the premises sold, and out of the proceeds of said sale—after first paying commissions and costs incurred in advertising and selling said premises and all other expenses of this trust, including all money advanced for taxes and insurance on said premises, with interest thereon at ten per cent. per annum—shall pay the full amount of the principal due, interest and fines named in said obligation unpaid at the time of such sale to the legal holder or holders thereof;

And whereas, default in the monthly dues and interest as aforesaid for the period of six months has occurred; and the said association has chosen to declare the whole principal debt shall become due and payable immediately, and to enforce and recover at once the payment of said principal sum and all interest thereon as well as any dues upon said shares of stock unpaid; and whereas, said association, by its secretary, has made application for proceedings under this trust:

THE LOVERS' HOLIDAY.

St. Valentine's Day, and How it came to be Celebrated—The Custom of Sending Valentines

Big Sale of Sentimental and Spiteful Missives at Decatur.

An authority on the subject says that sixteen hundred and nine years ago today, St. Valentine, a good Bishop, renowned far and wide for his charity, was beheaded by order of the Emperor Claudius, in the city of Rome. The anniversary of his martyrdom was afterwards celebrated as a sort of Lovers' Holiday, out of respect for the kind qualities of the self-abnegating prelate, and his name given to the day. Some writers trace the origin of the celebration to the Lupercalian feasts of the Romans, which were held in February On these occasions it was customary to place the names of the young women in a box, to be drawn out by the young men as chance directed.—They would thereupon remain one another's "valentines" for a year, with the privilege of making the match permanent by marriage if they so chose. Very few poets have considered a volume complete without a delicious little bit of nonsense put in somewhere as a valentine. The practice of sending gifts on the 14th day of February was in vogue for several centuries, and the offerings were of the substantial sort. A box of flowers, or jewelry, or something of the kind was formerly the most appropriate present sent. The practice of sending valentines now in vogue, commenced about thirty years ago, and, judging from the increased load in the mails every year, has been on the increase ever since. The English, Scotch and French, in early times indulged in a lottery game similar to that played by the Romans, but that fashion went out of date about the beginning of the present century. If the intent and purpose of the feast were to give full scope to exaggerated cases of love-sickness, then the ancients were more sensible than the people of the present day. Then every lady knew who her admirer was. Nowadays when the heart-sick youth anonymously forwards a $5 package to the object of his affections, he stands in great danger of having the gift placed by his inamorata to the credit of some more fortunate but less generous rival.

The sale of valentines at the various book stores, has been unusually large this year, and Postmaster Lytle and his able corps of assistants say they never had such a time handing out stamps and mailing drop letters. It is estimated at this hour (2.30 p. m.) that not less than 1,000 valentines, comic and sentimental, have passed through the office, and there's more to follow.

Those who take solid comfort in studiously frowning on what they call "a pernicious and senseless custom," may form an idea of what they might send to the object of their affections by reading the following stanzas, taken from highly-colored and really beautiful messengers of love:

> Dearest one
> I wish you well,
> But who I am
> I'll never tell
> One that loves you
> Sends you this,
> With kindest wishes
> And a kiss.
> Some love one,
> Some love two,
> I love one,
> And that is you.
> My heart is thine forevermore.

And so on through a thousand or more verses.

The comic valentine abounds in great numbers this year, and nearly everybody gets a send off of some kind. They afford much pleasure to the sender, but how it strikes the one who receives it is a matter we leave to the judgment of the reader. Below we append the titles of a few comic valentines introduced here this year. Each is very highly colored and has a verse of very mean doggerel, four to ten lines long

A beat, colored and white waiters, dandies, street walkers, novel readers, the cop, politicians, the hypocrite, the meanest man in town, the rowdy, the bum, mutual friend, Miss Shoddy, pianist, skinflint, grocer and dry goods merchant, codfish aristocracy, beer and rat exterminators, people with big eyes, big feet and long noses, the bar room loafer, male and female clerks, the free luncher, a son of a gun, the city and village busybody, the chronic umbrella borrower, the ward bully, Dr. Kill 'Em Quick, billiardist and poolist, the conductor, druggist, cook, eavesdropper, Miss Ankle Show, Miss Ignoramus, temperance advocate, old hen, singer, carpenter, schoolmaster, typo, boarding-house keeper, real estate and loan agent, blacksmith, the reporter, office seeker, the female swell, the man who don't pay his debts, the pious fraud, the man and woman with much "chin;" henpecked husbands, the lazy wife, mother-in-law, man with a cast iron bullion-like cheek, vanity, fatty, double-faced women, the young Benedict under his mother-in-law's thumb, the maiden gone to seed, the childless couple, the woman always borrowing, the love-sick woman, the "gawk," who thinks she's an angel, the old beau, engaged all her life, the man who can never get a whole suit of clothes at one time, the domestic tyrant, the jilted maiden, Miss Propriety, young man all style—no brains, the old bear, the gay widow with the pull-back, the shoemaker, painter and bar-keeper, the wolf in sheep's clothing, the tailor's dummy, and the corner loafer, etc., etc.

COUNTY COURT.—The probate business before the county court is being disposed of by His Honor Judge Greer, as it comes in from day to day. A venire has been issued for a jury, returnable on Tuesday next, when cases on the law docket not otherwise disposed of will be tried. Present indications are that but very few cases will be left to go before a jury.

C., H. & W. RAILWAY COMPANY.

The Latest Reliable Intelligence Concerning the I., B. & W. R'y.—A New Name for the Havana Branch.

It appears from the following telegram that the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western Railway Company have disposed of the Decatur and Havana branches of that road. It will be seen that a new company has been organized under a new name—operating the branch extending from White Heath, in Piatt county, westward to Havana, on the Illinois river.—What disposition has been made of the Decatur branch does not yet appear, but doubtless the veil will be lifted in a few days or weeks and the names of the new incorporators given to the public:

CHAMPAIGN, Feb. 11—The purchasers of the two extension lines of the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western road met here to-day and organized under the name of the Champaign, Havana & Western Railway Company, and elected Sumner R. Stone, of New York, president; W. C. Johns, of Decatur, secretary; S. H. Busey, of Urbana, treasurer. A stockholders' meeting, on April 30, was ordered to authorize the issuing of new bonds. The Illinois Central company, it is reported, will operate these lines. By the articles of incorporation, which have been filed with the secretary of the state of Illinois, the principal office is located at Champaign, the corporation is organized for fifty years, from Feb. 6, 1879, and the capital stock $1,000,000. The corporators are Sumner R. Stone, New York; Frederick D. Tappan, New York; John Welsh, jr., Philadelphia; William H. Smith, Urbana, Ill.; Simeon H. Busey, Urbana; W. C. Johns, Decatur, and Senator Luther Dearborn, Havana The same gentlemen constitute the first board of directors.

It is reported here that the Illinois Central company will use the Decatur branch, which intersects with the Chicago branch of the Central at Champaign, as a part of their contemplated air line to St. Louis So let it be.

FUNERAL OF HENRY J. METZ.—The body of Henry J. Metz, who committed suicide in the calaboose, lies at the undertaker's rooms, on South Main street, from which place it will be buried on to-morrow forenoon, at 10 o'clock. The father of deceased lives in New Brighton, Penn., and is in good circumstances On the night of the shooting, before he died, Metz told officer Brockway where his father lived, and requested that he be notified by telegram of what had happened. This was done, and in response to this information Coroner Dinneen received the following telegram from the father.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Feb. 13, 1879.—John Dinneen, Coroner, Decatur, Ill: Give my son a decent burial, and I will pay expenses. HENRY J. METZ

Acting upon this request of Mr. Metz, senior, Coroner Dinneen will proceed to bury the remains of the unfortunate man.

A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.—A long needed and substantial improvement has just been made in Sheriff Forstmyer's office The ceiling and walls have been newly calcimined, and the woodwork will receive a heavy coat of paint as soon as possible. Acting under the instructions of Supervisor Dill, Lyon, Gipson & Co., made up an ornamental and durable walnut railing, or fence, and this has been placed across the center of the room, leaving ample space inside for the transaction of general and private business.—The office desks have been elevated to a convenient height, affording great satisfaction to the Sheriff and Deputy Brown, who have heretofore been laboring under many disadvantages in the transaction of the business of the office. Altogether it is a very neat improvement—one that every tax-payer should be proud of OFF FOR CHICAGO.—Yesterday afternoon Chas. H. Brown, who is held in the county jail on suspicion that he was connected with the Dinneen robbery, was taken to Mrs. Butler's photograph gallery for the purpose of getting a picture of him. This done the picture was sent to Chicago to see if the magistrate, or the police officer, who Lee says arrested Brown in Chicago for drunkenness, can identify the picture as being the face of the man they had before the court there. If the picture is the face of the man they had in custody there, the person identifying it will be brought here to appear as a witness at the preliminary hearing on Saturday.

Sheriff Forstmyer came home from Taylorville last night, where he had been to attend the trial of June Blackburn. A motion being made for a continuance, Martin made a telling speech to the court in opposition to the motion, which was overruled. Rather than stand trial June plead guilty, and as will be seen by a statement in another place, got two years in the penitentiary.

Mr. Nelums, the school teacher who was assaulted in his school room at Blue Mound by a pupil by the name of John Schnurr, has so far recovered from his injuries as to be able to resume his duties in the school room. The assault was so aggravated that the boy's father did not justify it, and he allowed his son to lie in jail a week as a punishment for his bad conduct before he would bail him out.

Removal.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.—Services at the Universalist Church this evening, at the usual hour. In response to certain inquiries propounded from one of the pulpits of this city, the pastor will endeavor to answer this question: "Why are there so many Methodists and so few Universalists." He will take for his text Matthew VII.-13 and 14.

Rev. S. F. Hebbard received the following postal card to day, which we have been asked to print:

DEAR SIR.—The question you propose to answer to-night has not been asked. The question asked was, "Why do so many attend the Orthodox churches, and so few the Universalist churches?" As all will be saved—or all will find eternal life, and as there is no "destruction," it will be only fair to answer what was said, and not set up a man of straw.

ONE WHO WAS THERE

AGAIN.—The memory of the average voter in this township runneth not back to the time when Fred Smith was not a candidate for assessor. Sometimes he has been defeated, but more frequently he has been successful, and he has probably guessed at the value of more property than any other man in this region. He is willing, too, to stake his reputation on the correctness of his guesses It is true that he makes mistakes sometimes, but he is always willing to "make it right next year," provided he fails to satisfy the complaining taxpayer that it is all the fault of the collector. Fred is again in the field, and having a fresh stock of groceries he will doubtless find many friends.

A PLEASANT SOCIAL HOP.—"Our Club" held a delightful dancing party last evening at Powers' Hall, which was attended by about twenty couples. The Italian Band furnished music for the occasion, and Prof Leonard was master of ceremonies. Dancing was kept up until the small hours, when the party separated, with pleasant memories of the occasion. The parties held by "Our Club" are among the nobbiest affairs of the season, contributing much to the pleasure of the members.

COLD WATER ARMY TO-NIGHT.—This evening the Cold Water Army will give their grand entertainment at the tabernacle, consisting of recitations, tableaux, dramatic exercises, and a grand military drill. Death of Mrs. Arthur E. Allen.

The following appeared in the Wichita (Kan.) Eagle of the 6th inst. Deceased resided in this city for many years previous to her marriage, and has a large number of relatives and friends in this city who deeply mourn her death:

On Saturday, the 1st inst., in this city, Mrs. Mary Louisa Bear, wife of Arthur E. Allen, aged 26 years and 9 months.

Mrs. Allen was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bear, of this city. She was born at Plainfield, Pennsylvania, and was married to Arthur E. Allen, in this city, five years ago. She was most amiable and sweet as a daughter, and gentle and pure as a wife. In her girlhood she was the author of several popular musical airs, and her harmonious nature and cultured manners endeared her to all. The services attending her funeral, Sunday, were exceedingly affecting, and will long be remembered. Of her impending dissolution, she was fully aware. But we must all die, all leave ourselves, it matters not where, when, nor how, so we die well. Death is the crown of life, with hope as its brightest gem. Oh, that hope!

> "White as a white sail on a dusky sea,
> When half the horizon's clouded and half free,
> Fluttering between the dim wave and the sky,
> Is Hope's last gleam in man's extremity."

COMING.—Commencing next Monday night, Feb. 17, at the opera house, for six nights and Saturday matinee, Arnold & Curl's Art Illustrations from Assembly Buildings, Philadelphia; one of the most chaste and elegant entertainments now traveling. These are the same class of entertainments as given by Prof. Cromwell and Prof. Tremaine with great success in nearly every city in the country In St. Louis and Chicago people were turned away nightly. Rates of admission will be, adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents; 5 tickets, $1.00 No extra charge for reserved seats. This very moderate rate of admission has been adopted so as to afford all who may desire, an opportunity to enjoy the delights of these truly magnificent Art Expositions.

The Daily Republican.

How to Pay Off a Church Debt.

The Methodist church of Greenville, Michigan, has just "called the long roll." It had a debt of $2,000 hanging over it. On the 22d of September the pastor, Rev. J. W. Reid, surprised the congregation by producing cards of white, buff and red, representing respectively $10, $5 and "miscellaneous amounts," inscribed "Long Roll Call—Out of Debt, December 29, 1878," and bearing 100 dots, one for each day. He invited each member to take what cards he or she could, and put by one hundredth part of the subscription daily, keeping the money with religious care till the 29th of December, when the "long roll" would be called and each expected to produce card and money. Daily he would ring the church bell at noon to notify members to cancel a dot and offer prayer for the Divine blessing on the enterprise. When the 29th of December came every holder of a card was present and every dot in the cards had been cancelled, and after freeing the church from debt there was a surplus of $305.53 left in the treasury. By trying the cent-a-day system it was found that the dollars were accumulated with ease.

A Source of Much Bodily Evil.

If the habit of body becomes irregular, much evil is inflicted on the system. The stomach becomes dyspeptic, bilious symptoms develop themselves, the circulation is contaminated, and the nerves share in the general disorder. It is of the utmost importance that the bowels should be thoroughly and speedily regulated when they grow derelict. The corrective agent best adapted to this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a wholesome, non-griping vegetable laxative, worth all the rasping cathartics invented since the time of Paracelsus. People who have been in the habit of using blue pills, calomel, and other drugs and cheap nostrums for constipation, should abandon such hurtful and useless medicines, and substitute for them this pleasant and gentle aperient, which not only produces the purgative effect naturally, but also strengthens while it regulates the bowels, stomach and liver. It moreover cures and prevents intermittent and remittent fevers, gout, rheumatism, debility and urinary troubles d&w1w

FRIENDLY SUGGESTIONS

To Travelers, as well as to Those Seeking New Homes in the West.

The summer of 1878 will long be remembered by many on account of the extreme heat, as well as the terrible plague that has visited certain sections of our country. Therefore, if you are about taking a trip to the West, either for pleasure or to look out a location for a New Home, seek to locate on (or nearly so), the same latitude in which you formerly lived. The reasons for this are many. You will escape the severe climatic changes and fevers incident to North or South, consequently you will experience no poor health, which is a great draw drawback to the new settler, and in this way you become producers at once. The Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad is located upon the happy medium between North and South, running through the northern part of Missouri, where there is no plague or pestilence, and upon which line thousands of happy settlers are located, and on account of the wonderful fertility of the soil, together with the best of markets have become independent, and surrounded as they are with the best of schools and churches, together with all the home comforts, are a prosperous and happy people.

TUTT'S PILLS!

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS

THEY ARE WORTH THEIR

WEIGHT in GOLD

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

DR. TUTT:—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Last Spring your Pills were recommended to me; I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.

REV. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

A TORPID LIVER

is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Dysentery, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Jaundice, Piles, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, Colic, etc.

Tutt's Pills exert a powerful influence on the Liver, and will with certainty, relieve that important organ from disease, and restore its normal functions.

The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health and strength to the system.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. When the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.
